As a leading advocate for individuals exiting the criminal justice system, the Reentry Coalition of New Jersey is a multi-agency 501c3 non-profit organization committed to helping individuals exiting the criminal justice system successfully reenter society and establish themselves as healthy, productive New Jersey citizens.

ABOUT RCRPs

For those exiting the criminal justice system, one supportive program offered in New Jersey is Residential Community Release Programs (RCRPs). Also known as “halfway houses,” RCRPs are residential facilities that have been specifically designed to provide a safe, structured and service-rich environment to assist individuals nearing release with their transition back to the community.

RCRPs in New Jersey are all contracted through the New Jersey Department of Corrections and are designed for both adult men and women on inmate full-minimum status who are within 30 months of parole eligibility and approved by an institution’s Classification Committee.

At an RCRP, individuals can benefit from a variety of supportive services – from comprehensive assessment, cognitive behavioral interventions and substance abuse treatment to pre-employment services/work release, life skills development, gender-based services, specialized services and more.

The Reentry Coalition of New Jersey is comprised of highly qualified, accredited reentry agencies who promote public safety, reduce recidivism and ensure the long-term success of those exiting the criminal justice system. Currently, our member agencies operate a total of ten (10) RCRPs specifically for males, with locations throughout the state of New Jersey.
